Planning + Imagination = Delight

If you didn't plan this December's holiday vacation last November when that magical 13-month mark came around, June is the perfect time to see what options remain for this winter and set your appetite for adventure in motion for 2004.

Planning is the key to a successful WorldMark vacation, and with this issue of Destinations, we want to remind you of the exciting winter holiday possibilities that your club offers. For the sun-lovers, we visit our four popular Hawaiian resorts (and Fiji in Destinations Extra). For those of you who prefer to hit the slopes rather than the beach, we explore three of our glorious ski-friendly sites: Whistler, Steamboat Springs and McCall.

We also want to inspire you to think beyond the usual when it comes to planning your winter vacation. As we go to press, places like Whistler may be out of reach for Christmas week, but snow bunnies can still book Arrow Point, Park Village and Wolf Creek and get their choice of unit, great skiing and a guaranteed Christmas with WorldMark. Planned too late to holiday in Hawaii? Santa can still come see you in the warm sunshine of La Paloma, Oceanside Harbor and Palm Springs.

Because your ownership presents so many possibilities—WorldMark resorts, Associate and Affiliate options, Exchange Partners—it's almost never too late to plan your winter getaway if you're open to spontaneity and adventure. Spending the holidays at a WorldMark resort is a wonderful gift, and one of the nicest things about your ownership is that it's a present that you can open all year long.

Soaking up the rays, lazing on the beach and frolicking in the water: You can expect to find perfect conditions for all three of your favorite tropical activities at each of the four Hawaiian WorldMark resorts. But each island also has something a little different to offer those guests who are willing to look a bit beyond the usual.

Come, Stay, Play!

The ALOHA World of WorldMark

Big Fun on the Big Island: WorldMark Kona

The Big Island (also known as the Orchid Isle) is the “Hawaii” of Hawaii, its official name echoing that of the fiftieth state. WorldMark Kona is your home base on the Big Island. With an outdoor pool, spa and children’s pool, you don’t have to venture far to get your daily dose of aquatic bliss. Your front desk staff will happily act as your consultants for island excursions and resort activities.

COME FOR THE...

- Floral greetings: leis are a symbol of love and friendship; they are also the traditional offering to Laka, goddess of the dance, which is why hula dancers are adorned with them.
- Hot lava: Two-and-one-half hours away from WorldMark Kona sits Hawaii Volcanoes National Park, where the Kilauea volcano has been erupting continuously since 1983.
- Blue heaven: Swimming, snorkeling, scuba diving, surfing, whale-watching, boating, deep-sea fishing, tourist submarine rides and three glorious major waterfalls—Hiilawe, Akaka and Kahuna—await you.

- Java jive: Kona’s ideal growing conditions of deep volcanic soils, cool mornings, warm afternoons and natural shade produce some of the most delicious coffee in the world.
- Seafood 24/7: The thing about being on a tropical island is that the best fresh fish market imaginable completely surrounds you.

STAY FOR THE...

- Social scene: Huggo’s was established in 1969 as a gathering place for resident fisherman to “talk story.” It has evolved into a prime-dining institution with entertainment in a charming waterfront setting.
- Fresh greens: With 18 spectacular golf courses throughout the island, the Big Island proudly bears the name “Golf Capital of Hawaii.”

- Celestial skies: Mauna Kea hosts the world’s largest astronomical observatory, with telescopes operated by astronomers from 11 countries.
- Endorphin rush: The lava fields of Kona have been the setting for the Ironman Triathlon World Championship since 1981. This year marks the event's 25th anniversary.

- Loco Moco: This regional indulgence consists of a virtual mountain of rice and hamburger, two stacked fried eggs and a smothering of gravy. Culinary delicacy or threat to mankind? You decide.

Wowee in Maui: WorldMark Kihei and WorldMark Valley Isle

Maui—the Valley Isle—is the second largest of the populated islands.

WorldMark Kihei is tucked into the southern shore of the island off Maalaea Bay. The resort's amenities include an outdoor pool and spa, children's pool, basketball net and clubhouse with exercise equipment; poolside massage, complimentary game rentals and organized activities are available.

WorldMark Valley Isle in Lahaina in West Maui is just off the beach; so close you'll barely even need the outdoor pool. The stunning green countryside of the area has been compared to the Scottish highlands, so expect dazzling vistas as you golf the Kapalua Golf Club course just north of the resort.

COME FOR THE...

- Bake and shake: The Old Lahaina

Luau serves the traditional Kalua pig baked in an underground "imu" oven with all the trimmings while energetic drummers and graceful hula dancers tell the story of Hawaii in the island way.

- Road trip: The Hana Road offers one of the great adventurous-driving experiences of all time.
- The "Thar' she blows" experience: The channel formed between Maui and the smaller islands of Molokai and Lanai provides the perfect shelter for humpback whales.
- Sweet treats: The Maui Tropical Pineapple Plantation in Kapalua still thrives, presenting a perfect opportunity for souvenir shopping and a lesson in history.
- Waterworld: The Ahihi-Kina'u Natural Reserve, with a strict "no powerboats, no fishing" policy, provides ideal surroundings for snorkeling, scuba diving and occasionally even a turtle, dolphin or humpback sighting.

STAY FOR THE...

- Da' kine plate lunch: "Da' kine" can mean the real thing or "you know what I mean?" The regional plate lunch is any sizable entrée accompanied by "two rice one mac"—two scoops of rice and one scoop of macaroni salad.

- Head trip: Ulalena weaves traditional Hawaiian music, Butoh theatre, acrobatic feats, hula, modern dance, rich costumes, lighting and stage design into a tapestry of fantastic images drawn from Hawaiian legend and history. A must-see.
- The "Thar' she used to blow" experience: Haleakala National Park and Haleakala Crater tell the story of the now-dormant volcano through diverse eco-systems, fascinating topography and multiple weather zones.
- Sugar Cane Train: Led by a singing, storytelling conductor and chugging along a six-mile stretch of track, the Sugar Cane Train crosses a 325-foot-high wooden trestle over panoramic views.
- Happy hour: The Tedeschi Winery (Maui's only commercial winery) offers tours along with tastings of their award-winning wines and champagnes.

Paradise, Kauai-an Style: WorldMark Kapaa Shore

The oldest of the inhabited Hawaiian isles has been dubbed the Garden Isle, due to its luxuriant forests and vegetation. WorldMark Kapaa Shore is situated on the East Coast of Kauai. The outdoor pool and spa along with tennis, croquet and shuffleboard will help you work up a sweat; the northeast trade winds will cool you down—no air-conditioning necessary.

COME FOR THE...

- Light show: The eastern exposure means an oceanfront sunrise every day.
- Sand in your shoes: Kauai has 43 exquisite sand beaches.
- Cliffhangers: Na Pali Coast State Park is home to the Kalalau Trail, renowned for its exceptional views of Hawaii's rugged and thrilling sea cliffs.
- Grand Canyon of the Pacific: 10 miles long and 3,000 feet deep, the Waimea Canyon presents breathtaking views within this huge rift in the earth.

- Star treatment: Waialeale Crater, boasting over a dozen waterfalls, was featured in Jurassic Park; more than 50 major films have utilized Kauai's natural beauty.

STAY FOR THE...

- Good deeds and fireworks: The Fourth of July Concert in the Sky is the annual fundraiser for Kauai Hospice with great food from top hotels and restaurants, continuous live music and the biggest aerial fireworks show on Kauai.
- Moves and music: September's Kauai Mokihana Festival features the Kauai Composers Contest and a hula competition for both men and women.
- Statewide pride: The Aloha Festival throughout October is the only statewide artistic celebration in the U.S. This annual multicultural celebration highlights Hawaii's unique traditions of music, dance and history.
- Swingers: With a field made up exclusively of the winners of golf's four major championships, November's PGA Grand Slam of Golf provides spectators the opportunity to see an outstanding competition.
- Tripping the light fantastic: This year's lighting of Christmas decorations on the grounds of the Historic County Building in Lihue takes place on December 6, 2003. Festivities also include local entertainment, caroling and a parade of floats.

With four distinctly different WorldMark resorts to choose from in the Hawaiian Islands and so much to do at each location, you'll never have the same vacation experience twice. Whether you enjoy being a typical tourist or thrill to going off the beaten track, your WorldMark Hawaiian resort vacation will fill you with the aloha spirit of the islands and have you planning your next trip to paradise. ❀

Winter Wonderlands

HIDDEN GEMS AMONG WORLDMARK'S SNOWY RETREATS

It's June, and probably nothing could be further from your mind than winter's cold snowy weather. But now is the perfect time to start planning your 2003/2004 (and even your 2004/2005) trips to WorldMark's ski havens McCall, Steamboat Springs and Whistler.

We asked our resort managers to list five reasons why people typically come to their resorts (all put skiing and snowboarding at the top of their lists, of course) and five delightful surprises people will find when they get there. Remember, these are all wintertime lists, so we're not including the Frontier Fourth of July celebration in McCall, which includes the world-famous porcupine race; Whistler's breakneck jet boating adventures over whitewater rapids; or Steamboat Spring's hot air balloon Rainbow Weekend (though we really wish we could). These are just some of the highlights, and we just hope they'll get your travel engines started so that you can find your own reasons to stay at these wonderful WorldMark winter retreats.

Whistler, British Columbia

COME FOR THE...

- Skiing and snowboarding
- Village restaurants and nightlife
- Beautiful pedestrian village and valley trail network
- Boutiques devoted to holiday shopping
- Favorable U.S. to Canadian dollar exchange rate

STAY FOR THE...

- Fun and friendly people of Whistler
- Telus World Ski and Snowboard Festival
- Gondola ride
- Bald eagle watching
- $10 fresh pasta and sauce lunch at Pasta Lupino (yes, that's Canadian dollars!)

Whistler and Blackcomb mountains, with their high-speed lifts that can move as many as 59,000 skiers to the top of its over 200 trails every hour, make the Cascade Lodge and Sundance resorts two of the most popular winter destinations in the WorldMark network. The average annual snowfall here is more than 30 feet, and the skiing and snowboarding are truly world-class. But the clincher in Whistler is the alpine village atmosphere—at 2,200 feet above sea level, this ski village is a secluded mountaintop oasis loaded with options for daytime recreation and nighttime fun.

The Telus World Ski and Snowboard Festival is a ten-day event in April in which the snowboarding events are some of the most competitive in the world. The festival also includes concerts, photography shows, film events and children's activities such as puppet shows and balloon artistry. It's a community-wide celebration of the active body and mind in one of the loveliest communities in the world.

Wildlife watching is not confined to the village late-night hours when the pubs close. Tours are available to the wilderness areas on Whistler/Blackcomb where you might get a glimpse of a bear or two, while just 45 minutes away in Brackendale you can view hundreds of wintering bald eagles in January and February. And when you get back to the village, you'll want to discover for yourself why Pasta Lupina is the perennial winner of the best place in Whistler to spend your last $10 CDN.

The pasta and sauces are all made fresh from scratch, and you can even buy dinner early and take it back to your WorldMark condo to cook yourself later.

McCall, Idaho

COME FOR THE...

- Skiing and snowboarding
- Ice skating
- Winter Carnival
- Snowmobiling
- Hunting

STAY FOR THE...

- Hot springs
- Dog sled races
- Ski joring
- Lift-served snow tubing
- Peace and quiet

Just a few miles from the resort in McCall is Brundage Mountain, widely known for its 300 inches of annual snowfall and 1,300 acres of perfectly groomed powder runs. But skiing isn't all you'll find to do when you pay a winter visit to WorldMark McCall: The Winter Carnival in early February brings fun exhibitions and fierce competitions to town, including figure skating, monster dog pulls, a wine festival and a snow-sculpture contest. Watch for equestrian ski joring, a fast-paced competition featuring a horse-drawn skier navigating a course of jumps and gates—like water-skiing, only without the soft landing.

Lesser-known but equally alluring are the McCall-area hot springs, the largest of which is accessible only by snowmobile or cross-country skis in the wintertime. Burgdorf Hot Springs is located about 30 miles north of McCall. The water temperature is a soothing 104 degrees, and there's even a two-foot deep children's pool. Other area hot springs where you can soak away the winter chill are ZIMS, which includes a naturally-heated Olympic-sized swimming pool as well as a soaking pool, and Molly's, a volunteer-built primitive rock pool.

No matter what you choose to do while in McCall, the hush of the snowflakes, the poetic landscape and the small-town atmosphere won't fail to fill your spirit with peace. Whether you choose to strap on skis and ride the lift to the top of Brundage Mountain to survey the breathtaking vista of the Payette Lakes, snow-tube late at the lighted Activity Barn, or cheer for the winner of the Children's Snowman Building Contest, you won't have to look far to find fantastic reasons to return.

Steamboat Springs, Colorado

COME FOR THE...

- Skiing and snowboarding
- Hot springs
- Western warmth, small town charm
- Majestic Rocky Mountain scenery
- Remoteness and solitude

STAY FOR THE...

- Unique galleries and quaint shops
- Exquisite and unique dining experiences (including a horse-drawn sleigh ride dinner)
- Winter Carnival street events and the historic Lighted Man
- National and international ski events
- Live entertainment

Famous for its more than 330 inches of annual snowfall and its trademarked Champagne Powder, Steamboat Springs is a true downhill paradise. Six peaks make up the Steamboat mountain range, and with over 140 named trails, skiers and snowboarders of every skill level can find appropriate runs. The nearby natural hot springs are world-class yet rustic, and the Rocky Mountain scenery is majestic no matter where you stand.

For dinner and nighttime entertainment, Steamboat offers many choices, from the traditional dinner and dancing to full moon snowshoe tours. The Bear River Comedy Club in Gondola Square brings renowned comedians to town on Friday and Saturday nights, and in early January the Steamboat MusicFest means six nights of country, rock and blues. A dinner sleigh ride with traditional western fare including barbecued rib-eye steak and corn on the cob is an experience you'll never forget.

In early February, the oldest Winter Carnival west of the Mississippi kicks off with much of what you'd expect to see—ski races, ice hockey, a grand marshall and a queen—and a few things you wouldn't. Some of the spectacles you'll witness are the legendary Lighted Man, who wears a festive light bulb-covered suit and skis down Howelsen Hill shooting off roman candles; an adult snow-shovel race; ski joring competitions; and other events on the snow-covered main street. ❄️
