Kapaa Shore is located on level to gently sloping property; however, there are no elevators and the check-in entrance has a 3" threshold. The resort lacks Braille signage but does have portable TDD units, visual fire alarms and devices providing visual notification of door knocks and ringing phones.

Special Needs Units

This resort has no special needs units

This property is not recommended for mobility-impaired guests because all unit entrances have at least three steps and the bathrooms and bedrooms are too small to accommodate even the smallest wheelchairs. A wheelchair could possibly gain access to the living room and kitchen area of one-bedroom, ground floor units by entering through the sliding glass patio doors and crossing a threshold that is between 2" and 5" high.
